

United Way of Southwest Alabama 2017 Heart of Gold Community Volunteer Awards Nomination Guidelines

Deadline is Thursday, March 9, 2017

OVERVIEW

The engagement of the hundreds of individuals who volunteer with us each year is critical to the success of both United Way of Southwest Alabama (UWSWA) and its 48 partner agencies. Last year, the work of these volunteers was valued at more than a half a million dollars—money that was invested in programs and services that addressed our communities' needs.

In 2017, UWSWA is proud to honor its volunteers with the Heart of Gold Award, which recognizes up to four volunteers in four of UWSWA's counties—Choctaw, Clarke, Mobile, and Washington—for their dedication and service.

One volunteer (an individual or company) in each of UWSWA's four Building Blocks may be recognized in the Mobile's Volunteer Awards event on May 2, 2017 for their work in:

- Education
- Health
- Financial Stability
- Essentials

CATEGORIES

Individuals or companies may be nominated in one of the following categories:

- Education: Volunteer(s) invested their time in birth through age 18 education activities, programs, or services that may improve the chance of high school graduation, and being college and career ready
- Health: Volunteer(s) invested their time in activities, programs, or services that promote health and wellness, including prevention, intervention, and health maintenance
- Financial Stability: Volunteer(s) invested their time in activities, programs, or services that foster more financially stable, economically self-sufficient individuals and families
- Essentials: Volunteer(s) invested their time in activities, programs, or services that ensure our citizens' basic needs are met
